

JU JITSU HELPS LITTLE WOMAN TO CONQUER A GIANT

Mrs. Asanowitz Subdues Man on Rampage After He Cuts Two.

Timothy M. Daly, fifty years old, big-fisted and brawny and more than six feet tall, broke open a woman's door and punched her on the arm, but another woman in the arm and her husband in the leg, and created a reign of terror in the tenement house at No. 407 Third avenue this morning.

Daly told the police he is a metal polisher from Cincinnati, where he represents the union. He said his troubles were due to his wife, who left him last night. He got drunk trying to find her. He said she had a friend living in the tenement house and he went there to find her.

Reaching the third floor, he knocked at the door of Mrs. Ella Levy. With her four-month-old baby in her arms Mrs. Levy opened the door. Daly demanded that she produce his wife and she told him she knew nothing of him or his wife. She told him to go away and pushed him. He struck her on the right arm, then smashed in the door. Her screams brought Mrs. Lottie Connolly from the floor below, followed by her husband.

Daly slashed Mrs. Connolly in the arm and her husband on the leg. Down from the floor above came Mrs. Victor Asanowitz, full of grit and unafraid. She immediately interfered with Daly, who savagely fought her off, but made no attempt to strike her. She gave him a touch of ju-jitsu, and he began to yell. Meantime, from nearly every window in the front part of the house, women were screaming police and murder. Policeman Baker rushed into the house and upstairs and relieved the plucky woman of her prisoner.

The injured people were treated by Dr. Jamieson of Bellevue, while Daly was taken to the East Thirty-fifth street police station. He was charged with felonious assault and illegal entry.

HOME RULE BILL PASSED.

Measure Applying to Cities Goes Through Assembly.

ALBANY, March 20.—The Assembly today passed Majority Leader Levy's Municipal Empowering act, or Home Rule bill. "This is home rule in its broadest sense," said Mr. Levy. It grants to all cities of the State power to regulate, manage and control their property and local affairs with all the rights, privileges and jurisdiction necessary and proper for carrying that power into execution.

Two Boys Are Drowned.

TRENTON, N. J., March 20.—Two unknown boys aged about fifteen and thirteen years were drowned in the Delaware River this morning. The bodies were recovered several hours later in fishermen's nets and are now at the morgue in Morrisville, Pa., awaiting identification. The boys secured an abandoned boat and an old patched fish net, and when a short distance from the shore cast out their net. The boat suddenly sank and the youngsters went down with it.
